Discuss

1. How has going to church been like green pastures and still waters in your life?
2. Why is it important to let God fill your tank every day and not just on the weekend? What does this look like for you?
3. What are indications that your tank is empty?
4. Read Luke 4:18 and Matthew 12:20. What do these verses reveal about the character of Jesus? What are some ways God has brought freedom and victory in your life?
5. If you're comfortable, share about a time you were in a pit and Jesus, the Good Shepherd, got you out of it.
6. How does walking in paths of righteousness affect your life?
7. Can you think of a time you heard God and were filled with confidence? Why does hearing God help us to live confidently?
8. Laying down in green pastures and sitting beside still waters requires time. What changes do you need to make to ensure you are spending enough time with the Lord, our Shepherd?
9. What is the Holy Spirit saying to you through this message?

Takeaway

As we conclude, remember the following:

- God provides green pastures and still waters.
- God provides healing and restoration.
- God leads us in paths of righteousness.

Prayer

Heavenly Father, thank You for providing green pastures and still waters for us. Help us to prioritize spending time with You and being in Your refreshing presence. Thank You for healing and restoring every area of our lives. Please lead us in paths of righteousness so we can always rest in the joy of Your salvation. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen.

Leader Tip

As a leader, providing structure for people helps them grow. One way you can encourage people to pray for one another is by assigning prayer partners each week. They can share prayer requests with the group or throughout the week. This structure fosters an environment of prayer and facilitates closer relationships within the group.

Group Dynamics Idea

This week's message creates a great opportunity for your group to encourage one another to prioritize spending time with God. One way you can do this is by choosing a Bible reading plan to do together. Whether you do it for a month, a semester, or a year, the mutual encouragement will help people in your group to be consistent about growing in their relationships with God.
